

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI BERGAMO

› Language Italian 🇮🇹,
English 🇬🇧 and French 🇫🇷

› Duration 3 Academic Years

› Programme

The PhD in Landscape Studies for Global and Local Challenges is an interdisciplinary programme exploring the theoretical, methodological and applied studies of the landscape as cultural heritage of humanity, as declared by UNESCO. It integrates humanities and hard sciences to address the global challenges and local dynamics that shape territories, intertwining research topics related to urban regeneration, collaborative design, historical heritage, spatial narratives and transmedia imagery.

PhD programme in Landscape Studies for Global and Local Challenges

› Career and opportunities

PhD students will benefit from a teaching committee comprising the Departments of Foreign Languages, Literature and Culture, Engineering and Applied Sciences, and Letters, Philosophy and Communication. They will be supported by international experts on the International Academic Steering Committee, spend six months abroad and work with local stakeholders on the Advisory Board through field activities under the supervision of two interdisciplinary scholars. Scholarships are available.

› More information

<https://phd-landscape.unibg.it/en>

› Coordinator

Prof. Alessandra Ghisalberti
alessandra.ghisalberti@unibg.it

