Inscription deadline: 29 March 2026

Objective: The 2026 edition of the International Landscape Workshop is an on-field interdisciplinary research experience promoted by the UniBg Imago Mundi Lab and mainly addressed to 20 junior researchers (such as PhD candidates, post-doc researchers, etc.). The aim is to integrate geographical and historical theories, methods, and tools with other disciplines – such as linguistics, visual studies, sociology, architecture, urban planning, etc. – to reflect on landscape as a complex and trans-scale concept. It is, therefore, articulated in three main sessions starting from global challenges related to world dynamics and imaginaries launched from a “cohabiting” perspective by three keynote speeches about “landscape”, “urbanity”, and “heritage”. Each session, then, focuses on specific case-study considered as “research patch”, the global stakes of which will be highlighted.

Methods: A collaborative approach will guide participants in immersive research experiences, based on methods for the global – ecological, just, economic, and digital – transitions to face world challenges, through “territorial patches” analysis.

Scientific Committee: Fulvio Adobati, UniBg; Jean-Marc Besse, Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales; Federica Burini, UniBg; Angelo Cattaneo, Primo Ricercatore Istituto di Storia dell’Europa Mediterranea del Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche; Stefania Consonni, UniBg; Edith Fagnoni, Sorbonne Université; Alessandra Ghisalberti, UniBg; Michel Lussault, Ecole Normale Supérieure de Lyon; Riccardo Rao, UniBg

Communication and Organization Committee: Mikel Magoni, UniBg (coordinator); Francesco Antonelli, UniBg; Alice Bassanesi, UniBg; Elena Canovo, UniBg; Michele Galella, UniBg; Matteo Locatelli, UniBg; Roberta Valsecchi, UniBg

Video communication: Some activities will be recorded and composed in a videoclip through a VideoDigitalLab Workshop led by Antonio Iorio along the four days.

Languages: English, French

Participants: UniBg or external PhD candidates, post-docs, junior researchers, others

Participation fees: the International Landscape Workshop is free. Each participant should however provide for their own mobility and accommodation expenses.

Institutional partners: Associazione dei Geografi Italiani, Association des Géographes Français, Associazione Italiana Insegnanti di Geografia, BAUHAUS4EU, CNR Istituto di Metodologie per l’Analisi Ambientale, CNR Istituto di Storia dell’Europa Mediterranea, Heritage International Institute
